

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to provide this letter of recommendation for Wendy Garrod whom I worked with in connection with the development of MGM Resort in National Harbor, Maryland. My employer, McKissack & McKissack, a national construction management firm based in Washington DC, provided MGM International Resorts with Program & Construction Management “owners representation” services for the execution of MGM’s $1.2 BL state-of-the-art resort in National Harbor Maryland.

I had the pleasure of teaming with Wendy Garrod, Senior Project Manager for the Prime General Contractor, Whiting-Turner, to lead, manage and execute the design and field construction efforts in support of the resort’s F&B program, consisting of seven (7) full-service restaurants, six (6) bars and lounges, and various retail spaces. The entire development had a demanding schedule and required extensive coordination with various entities providing technical services in support of this monumental project.

Wendy, genuinely shared McKissack’s commitment to the MGM International to deliver an on-time quality project, and helped foster the same commitment with Sub Contractors and other support personnel working on the project.

There are many attributes that Wendy should be recognized for, but I was personally impressed with Wendy’s professionalism, leadership, and her attention to details that I will always associate with in my fond memories of having the privilege of working with Wendy during the past two years.

In my opinion, Wendy has demonstrated and is ready to undertake higher level of construction management roll/position in the construction service segment, and will be an asset to the team she will lead and serve.

If you would like to speak directly with me about my professional association with Wendy, please do not hesitate to contact me.
